

Stuart D. Holtzman, MAI

Experience

Managing Director/Principal—Holtzman Appraisal & Consulting Services, Inc.

Mr. Holtzman created his own company to continue his career-long specializations appraising complex properties for conservation easements and other IRS purposes; property tax appeals; litigation purposes, such as diminution in value, eminent domain, marriage dissolution and estate matters; and Yellow Book/government entity assignments. Mr. Holtzman continues his work with land holdings and farms, master plans and subdivisions, golf courses, hotels and resort properties, as well as large industrial properties and anything that takes a high level of experience and expertise (now including water rights valuations). Mr. Holtzman serves his specialized clients with superior focus and service, anywhere in Virginia and, on occasion, in North Carolina.

Director—Integra Realty Resources—Richmond.

Mr. Holtzman specialized in the analysis and valuation of, and litigation support for, complex properties and assignments, including large land holdings, master planned communities and subdivisions, golf courses and resorts, large industrial facilities, conservation easements and government agency work. Mr. Holtzman worked for the Orange County, CA office of Integra Realty Resources from 2000 to 2002 and in 2008, and then for the Richmond office from 2009 to 2018. He has worked extensively in California and Virginia and in several other states, as well.

Mr. Holtzman has completed assignments for government and public agencies for a wide variety of work, including feasibility studies, standard fee purchases of large acreages of land, corridor valuations, for both fee and easement ownership interest. Mr. Holtzman is proficient in eminent domain work and his Yellow Book certification is current.

With respect to conservation easements, Mr. Holtzman provides from pre-easement consultation to detailed appraisals to support easement values. Also, he reviews work of other appraisers for consistency with applicable appraisal guidelines. He has helped many landowners, attorneys and easement brokers achieve their goals navigating the often-complex process of documenting profitable easement applications and is on the Virginia Department of Taxation's short list of approved review appraisers for conservation easement appraisals.

Senior Appraisal Consultant—Virginia Department of Taxation. Mr. Holtzman spent much of 2015 in the public sector, training Board of Equalization members on property tax matters and assisting Commissioners of Revenue and local assessment offices on property tax law. Mr. Holtzman assisted the Land Preservation Tax Credit Unit in writing internal appraisal guidelines for conservation easements and with conservation easement review appraisal work.

Prior to moving to Virginia, Mr. Holtzman served as AVP/Commercial Reviewer for Fremont Investment & Loan, where he reviewed appraisals for three years of large, mixed-used and high-value properties in major metropolitan areas throughout the United States. He also worked with the Main Group/GVI Consulting performing market studies and valuations for master planned communities, golf courses, resorts, hotels, private fitness clubs, landfills and recycling centers.

While in California, Mr. Holtzman was Principal and Chief Executive Officer of Prosperity Real Estate Investment, Inc., where he directed a real estate investment firm specializing in affordable condominium conversion projects, converting and/or renovating over 600 units in a five-year timeframe.

Since coming to Virginia, Mr. Holtzman founded REI Consulting, Inc. and Destiny Consulting, Inc., partnerships focused on real estate investment in apartment buildings and in single-family homes, for renovation, in North Carolina, Virginia, and Pennsylvania.
